The X-RAY
The future of any institution of education.

However possessed of material wealth,

However vast,

However powerful in the past and present;

Is only as great as its students and its faculty,

Whose learning is imparted to those students.

And so this volume is respectfully dedicated

To the faculty and to the student body of MCV.

And to the countless classes to follow,

As tangible, concrete, definite proof

Of the continued and ever-growing greatness

Of the Medical College of Virginia.
Here . . .

In this small volume,

We have attempted the impossible task of recording
A year in the versatile, many-faceted lives
Of the Medical College of Virginia . . .

A task which even a Hercules,
Should he undertake it in its entirety,
Could never hope to bring to completion . . .

The changing,

Plastic fabric of the Medical College
Defies a record of all its activities . . .

And so,

Instead,

We have endeavored to create a volume which,

Though necessarily incomplete,

Will connote the spirit in which those activities
Are so ably and willingly done . . .

If

In this we have succeeded,

In no matter how small a measure;

If we have captured one small fraction

Of what the Medical College of Virginia means;

If we have exposed only one integral part

Of the tremendous whole,

For us

That is enough.

To Our Students:

The current struggle to abolish isolationism among the nations, with considerable promise of success, is paralleled in another phase among certain educational institutions in this country. One of the newer movements of this sort is the Richmond Area University Center embracing a cooperative program on the part of eight colleges and universities in and around Richmond. The Medical College of Virginia from the first has been represented in every aspect of this effort. Thus, the advantages of decentralized educational organization, which is more prevalent in the East where many different smaller colleges operate, and the advantages of centralized educational functions like those of the large universities of the Mid-West and Far West can be achieved to a substantial degree. A university center organization can strengthen and enrich undergraduate, graduate, and professional education in addition to postgraduate and in-service education. The plans which are shaping up for the Richmond area will likely involve a strong central organization to be administered somewhere in the Medical College of Virginia area.

By giving and sharing the institutions of the university center can step up the availability of total library resources, visiting lecturers and scholars, music programs, art exhibits, the exchange of teachers and students, as well as new courses and better offerings in advanced graduate education, postgraduate education, research, and many other desirable features of a total educational and general cultural program.

The Richmond Area University Center has chosen former Governor Colgate W. Darden, Jr., as its general chairman; has set up a legislative body, representative of the participating institutions, known as the council; has an executive committee of the presidents of the several institutions; a whole-time administrator; and certain standing and special committees. Ultimately, it will be necessary to raise sizeable sums of money, some of this from philanthropy and the rest from individual donors. Inevitably such a large undertaking involving so many institutions and interests must be developed on the basis of one year, two-year, and long range objectives. Richmond is believed to be an ideal place for such an undertaking. We shall all watch its progress with the keenest interest.

Sincerely yours,

W. T. Sanger, President.

Class History

This year is our last as a group; and even should we meet again together in the future, it will not—it cannot—be the same. From these common beginnings we must go our singularly uncommon ways.

But certainly there is at least one thought that should keep us consistently together. And that thought is the knowledge that we will never, neither financially nor spiritually, be able to repay those who have made it possible for us to complete our medical educations. And it is the thought of the debt we owe to the Medical College of Virginia, which has placed its faith and trust in our hands as the Class of 1947.

SEPTEMBER 26, 1946, marked the end of a long six months' vacation and the beginning of a very exciting year. By the time we had separated our white coats, laboratory boxes and other essential equipment from golf clubs and tennis rackets, clinic was under way. The accelerated program was over, and we were back on the original nine-month schedule again.

The boys who started out on medicine must have had a hard time, because they always told us "wait until you get on medicine." Those who were on Obstetrics were not taking life easy. Time flew by and before we thought about it we were taking our final examinations in Obstetrics, Urology, and Gynecology. We postponed taking them as long as we could, and at every lecture period someone would call for a vote. Every time we would discuss the examination schedule—everyone was in favor of postponement. How we managed to evade as long as we did will always remain a mystery.

Between votes, however, our schedule was full, and everyone was glad to see a fraternity dance occur on those far and few between week ends.

On outside OB, you never knew when, or where you were going to go, but stat night was full of blood counts.

In Dermatology we saw everything from scabies to urticaria—the patients had one thing in common, they all scratched.

One day some one dropped his pen in Orthopedics, and before he could find it, he was six pages behind in notes.

We will never forget the expressions: "A little gas is a poor thing," and "Keep the baby warm," and we hope Dr. Pastore will never forget the beautiful autumn days!

The year went by rapidly, but it will be one we will never forget.

Class History

"A H-H-H," we sighed contentedly, "another rung in the ladder to success," as we climbed that extra flight of stairs from "third floor—Anatomy" to "fourth floor—Physiology" one day last September. For had the revered Dr. McGuire, in his niche facing the door, remembered the Freshmen of the year before who threw pennies at him "for luck," he would have known that the stately individuals who had shortly before passed—and ignored him—in this ascent to the loftier regions of McGuire Hall were now Sophomores.

Days came and went as days will do, and we grew in wisdom if not in stature. Herbert Hoover's group learned that only a layman would set a tapeworm trap; R. A. Jackson, that one doesn't dilute a small urine specimen to volume so he can measure the specific gravity; Weatherly, that gag reflexes are a dime a dozen; and Hilda, that those stools in Physiology lab certainly can pack a wallop! We were all amazed to learn that alcohol is a powerful diuretic and that Fred Suite's confinement to a Drinker Respirator can be broken for brief intervals.

Then came our first day in the hospital! There Green learned that in the presence of a patient one does not refer to an asthmatic rale as a "cross between a fine, dry rale and a death rattle," and Bob Melgaard discovered (?) that one can not locate the apex impulse in an adult female by "counting ribs."

Other memories . . . Libby's returning after Christmas as "Mrs. Hurt;" our pride in lecturers R. K. and Mickey; Harvey Haag Day; Dick Anderson's becoming a spouse; Ricky's heart going into ventricular flattation when called "Poppa;" and Phil London's "Penny Cilin" becoming the woman of the year. Those and other things will bring smiles or chuckles in the years that are to come.

And now we've finished the term as Sophomores. Only this quarter we learned that babies are not delivered by stocks, nor are they ordered from Sears, Roebuck, nor do they found in dark corners as kittens are. Golly! with that knowledge and our brand new stethoscopes and sphygmomanometers and blood counting sets, the only things we lack are our "sheepskins." And yet—there must be an item or two that we haven't picked up or people wouldn't keep telling us that we've two bridges yet to cross—1948 and 1949. Hmmm...

Class History

On September 18, 1946, we became the first post-war Freshman Class to convene at MCV. Our number was eighty-four, eight of which were women. We came from college campuses and professional teaching as well as from the Army and Navy, the majority of men having served our country throughout all of the war and some of the prewar period.

In a poll taken, the average age of our class was found to be twenty-seven, with 60 per cent of the ex-servicemen married. We predict that this figure will rise, however, as four other members joined the marital ranks during the school year.

Obstetrics and Pediatrics were never-forgotten subjects during the year, for the already proud fathers gave much advice to the seven new fathers among their classmates.

Under the guidance and encouragement of the Staff at McGuire Hall we were introduced to Anatomy, Embryology, Histology and Neuroanatomy. These, along with Biochemistry and Bacteriology, made apparent to us the vastness of the field of medicine as it is known today.

Our class is proud of the members who participated in the formation of the MCV Choral Club under the direction of Dr. Hegre.

With a happy and interesting year behind us, we are earnestly working toward a day in 1950 when we will receive our diplomas conferring upon us the degree—Doctor of Medicine.

Dedication

In grateful recognition . . .
For advice,
Understanding,
And Friendliness . . .
This section is dedicated
By the Class of '47
Our class was the first to enter the Medical College of Virginia, School of Dentistry, in the uniform of our country. Of the forty-six members, twenty-nine were in the Army and fourteen represented the Navy. During the battle of the Medical College of Virginia, we have accumulated memories which will linger a lifetime.

At the completion of our Freshman year, the Army terminated its Dental A. S. T. P. program and the khaki-clad students returned to the less monotonous civilian dress; however, six of our members remained with the Army and left for Camp Barclay, Texas.

In loving memory of our Sophomore year—the year of the great “Rat Race”—we hope to leave such phrases as “pulp exposures,” “shy margins,” “under carved,” “casting failures,” “get another tooth,” “clean it up,” and “out of my way.”

Our Junior year introduced us to our first patients and new realms of Dentistry—patient management, appointment books, broken appointments and, last but not least, Dr. Little’s “Bible.”

During our Junior year the Navy V-12 Unit was liquidated, leaving the entire class in civilian clothes.

In our Senior year we were confronted with fifteen months as Seniors, instead of the usual nine, because of the de-accelerated program. How we fussed! But as the time of our entrance into the professional world draws near, many of us are thinking to ourselves: “If we had just a few months longer.”

Since we are the first class in the last four years to graduate without having to enter the armed services, the future of our practice of Dentistry looks more certain, for which we are grateful.

So, as we come to the end of our sojourn here, it is with reluctance and sorrow that we take leave of the friends and pleasures we have shared.

Class History

After a titanic struggle of two years' preparation of theory and practice work, the Class of '48 entered the threshold of clinical dentistry—the school clinic. New vistas of delight greeted us in the form of oral pathology, X-ray, and pedodontia.

Will we ever forget our first patient? (I'm trying!) The exultation, the mingled fear and gladness as we guided him to the chair; as we asked the familiar but necessary cliche, "Open wide, please?" Remember when you felt like offering your first prophylaxis patient a transfusion?

In Operative Dentistry, we didn't dig any holes we couldn't fill, but sometimes it was a grind.

In the Clinic we met our most difficult enemy—rather loosely and profusely entranced in the month—saliva. It obscured the field of operative and complicated our all too limited knowledge of clinical dentistry. In some patients the saliva always seemed at high tide—which taxed our aquatic ability.

The untiring and relentless war of the saliva ejectors was bitterly fought out all year. The battle of the blue solution, which was no man's land, proved to be the decisive turning point in the subtle fracas.

We did the sardines one better in the crowded Junior lab; they only lie there, but we had to do our lab work packed in together.

From Dr. Lyons we learned the A B C's of Oral Pathology which, condensed, really meant "No Smoking" or Chester-plains ain't what they A B Ceem to be.

After several machine gun lectures from Dr. Kerewich in X-Ray, we could see right through the course.

Dr. Jennings intimated that working on tots could be pretty hot when it paid a lot.

Oh, exodontially speaking, we learned that much of our success in exodontia would be due to the Wash.
What's up, Doc?
But you said it wouldn't hurt
Anybody got two dimes for a nickel?

Class History

The history of the Class of '49 was made of young men—Freshmen last year and returning veterans. They have been through a lot of hardships but nothing like they encountered in the Sophomore classes. These Sophomore classes were taken in stride with Clinic door shining in the distance.

We, the Sophomores, the half-way tooth snatchers, have just finished our dentoform patient. Our first.

We didn't know the pulp was so close to the dento-enamel junction—that a class four cavity was so complicated—operative dentistry a crypt course. That's a joke, son. Crown and Bridge, where gold is the cause of headaches and not night life, and blue inlay wax is blue in more than one sense; Gray's investment is more than cussed down the country. Prosthesis, the course of mistakes—where you profit by the mistakes. Prosthesis . . . casting machine . . . partial . . . and occlusion!

Physiology where dogs were supposed to be humans and we treated them as such. Poor dogs, or should we say poor humans! Pharmacology where we wrote prescriptions and their causes, we are specialists. P. S.—Don't verify this statement by our Pathology instructors. Principles of Medicine . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . .

Thus the Class of '49 has reached the Clinic door. We do not know what is on the other side, but we have come through our Freshman and Sophomore years. And we go through the door with confidence and determination—patients, beware!

There's a hole in the bottom of the... It takes a steady hand I spy
September 16, 1947, found a strange assortment of freshmen waiting outside Dean Bear's office. Yes, freshmen again, and after all these years.

A fast handshake by the Dean, and we were off on that never-ending treadmill, and up to our maxillary eights in studies—biochemistry, learning of the hidden wonders of the "Golden Fluid," anatomy, and Dr. Brashear presenting us with many and varied facts and poem about this body of ours. It wasn't long before we learned that chickens had no teeth and fish had thousands! Dr. Clough managed to compare his oral anatomy to everything from shovels to pretty girls, and how many times have we heard, "Dr. Morhart, how can I get these teeth to occlude?"

Midnight oil was burned by the jugful, and hair (?) was torn out handful by handful, but perhaps it was not all in vain—for there were good times sprinkled through those perilous days. There was always a fourth for bridge in the Student Union or a rushing party with nothing too good for us, and ah, those Saturday-night-dances!

There is still a long, hard road ahead with many a pitfall in store, but who knows? With all the beavers in our class the year 1950 may find some of them long-since graduated and maintaining a thriving practice.

SCHOOL OF

PHARMACY
Dedication

With sincere admiration and appreciation
For forty-five years' service
As a Teacher and Friend.
And for his constant efforts
Toward the advancement of Pharmacy.
This section is affectionately dedicated
By the Class of '47.
"We are happy to inform you . . ." Every Senior realizes the full significance of these words, for these six little words mark the successful completion of four years effort—four years that have sometimes seemed long and sometimes seemed short, but always have been spurred on by that one desire—the desire to attain the coveted title of Pharmacist. We're the last class that will be able to relate the "Battle" of studying both in the summer and winter with only a two weeks' break now and then. We've complained about it—our professors will tell you that—but not too much.

July 5, 1944 . . . a date we will always remember, the day that marked our entrance into the profession of Pharmacy. We were scared, a characteristic of all Freshmen, that day we entered the portals of McGuire Hall, but as we progressed through the years. Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and finally Senior, our fear and feeling of instability turned into a feeling of security and confidence for the future.

Our first year proved to be rather perplexing for we, right out of high school, plunged into phases of Chemistry and Science that we never knew existed, and our Sophomore year was even more confusing, for finally we came into contact with our first courses in Pharmacy. But these two years rolled by and we entered our Junior year where Incompatibilities and Gallenical immediately hit us in the face. We were sure that nothing could surmount the difficulties presented by them. How wrong we were!

And at last, the hoped-for, prayed-for, dreamed-of year—Senior.

To our Dean and to our Professors, who have patiently guided us during our stay at MCV, we express our gratitude and appreciation. Our sincere hope is that we may be of credit to them and to the profession which we have chosen—and which has chosen us.

SEPTEMBER came again, and to some students it meant coming back to college and resuming their studies. To most of the Freshmen it meant entering college for the first time with the hope of becoming a success while traveling the road of knowledge and that of the life of a college student. To Sophomores, who already had tasted the pleasure of being college students, September meant the end of vacation and the beginning of another college year.

However, to most of the Juniors, September meant more than just a beginning of another college year. Most of the members of our class are veterans. To our veterans it meant coming back to MCV after being absent a long, long time.

To the average Junior, September meant coming back—back to the life longed for. Back to studies; endlessly searching for knowledge; and overcoming the obstacles met on the road to success. We are here at MCV, and we expect to find here the answers to the questions that arise in our minds—questions concerning our future profession; questions answered over and over again by our professors.

We are striving ahead determined to reach our goal. Our path is not an easy one; it has by-paths and discouragements, but we are certain that nothing will stop us.

... Seniors ... and then Registered Pharmacists; and it is then that we will take our places, both in society and in the professional world.

Last September as we walked into our first classroom our eyes glanced from seat to seat and we noticed a few familiar faces intermingled with faces we had never seen before. A feeling of sadness came over us as we thought of those who were not with us. But who were these new students? We found that they were students who had transferred from other schools or who had, at one time, been at MCV but had left to do a job for Uncle Sam.

We hardly had time to say "Hello" to new friends because the onslaught of the professors fell upon us, and we were hurled into more work than we thought possible to be done. With scalpel and forceps we sailed through cat anatomy, and desensitized our nostrils laboring over the carcass of a dogfish. We fizzled and fumed with mechanics and electronics until our despair almost led us to use the atomic bomb.

From there our footless minds took a smack up against a stone wall, qualitative analysis, and (Oh, brother!) Mr. Pitts.

But we had our moments; for instance the time "Pluto" tried to talk Mr. Sanders into selling him a drop splitter, or the time Hargis tried to make love over a tube of hydrogen sulfide.

Those times are gone, but as you can see, not forgotten. We look ahead, with experience, for what is to come. All we ask is that the future be as fruitful as the past year.

FIFTY-EIGHT wide-awake Freshmen reported to the office of MCV on September 25, 1946, to begin four years of hard work in preparation for the profession which they had chosen for their life's work. Seven of these potential pharmacists were girls, but the majority of the class were war veterans, several of whom had been out of high school as long as ten or fifteen years. All these students realized that they had a hard road to travel, but they were willing to take the "ups and downs" and hope for the best.

After many months of lectures, experiments, quizzes, and examinations, our first year has finally drawn to a close. We have encountered many "downs" along the way, but fifty-one of the original class are still with us. The formerly wide-awake Freshmen are now sleepy-headed Sophomores—and who wouldn't be sleepy-headed?

We have worked hard, probably harder than we have ever worked before, but we have also shared many pleasant experiences which have been added to our albums of cherished memories. None of us can forget the combination study-period-bull-sessions in the study rooms at the library, or the ping-pong tournaments after classes. Neither can we forget the school dances and parties, especially the gala Christmas Dance in the beautifully decorated Student Union. All these memories have helped to make our days and nights of study more bearable, and our examinations less dreadful.

We have taken one step toward attaining our goal. Although we may come across several broken rungs in the ladder of success, we will struggle hard to keep our footing, in order that we may some day reach the top.

Class History

We are three, this Senior Class, but, we are as one as we dwell for an interim upon our days of training at MCV. We would like to recollect as on the classes, duty hours, and socials, and we can do this up to a certain point.

We can recall the bewildering, though inspiring, pre-clinical period. We can remember together our impressive capping exercises, and the gratifying day we received our black bands. Those were the highlights, the ladder-like steps toward success trod by all.

But, each member of this Senior Class will have her own mental reiterations; and, she will smile at, or ponder over, those different occasions which were just her own. Alike, but somehow unique.

True, reactions to first patients, first scrubs, acquiring the professional attitude, and making progress in studies and nursing ability, are to an extent the same upon us all. However, we will all have our own special memories of MCV, our own separate fondnesses and hopes for her future.

Walt Whitman encourages advancement in the lines, "... Now, voyager, sail thou forth to seek and find." We will go forth. But, we shall also stop and consider our days of training. The days we thought quite difficult, satisfying, long-lasting, and over far too soon. We shall look back and remember, each having taken her part in the aspiring and productive history of our class from the "probie" stage to the time for graduation.

Miss Virginia Gose ............................................ Faculty Advisor

Class History

We were a meek crew, the twenty-eight who began our nursing careers in February, 1945. We got lost in the labyrinth of the underground and lost in the classrooms upstairs. We often confused a medical student with a chief-of-staff and any nurse in white was an awesome thing.

In September when our register swelled to seventy-eight, with the incoming class, we had acquired a little more courage. The classes were one long road of horror. The first medical terms we learned were overworked, so proud were we of our new vocabulary. Of course, the less-used ones were a terror when examinations came.

Those were the days when medical authorities would have been amazed to find that pituitrin was an end product of digestion and that estrogen was stored in the liver.

Finally, the load of class work became lighter, the load of ward work heavier. We’ve had our moments of pride, our moments of defiance, and in the wee, small hours of the morning, after a long, hard bull-session, we’ve even had our moments of wisdom.

Centuries later, we rose to the status of Juniors. Though at times we were convinced that all efforts were turned toward making us otherwise, we were happy. When we are asked why we became a nurse, the best answer we’ve found is, “Try it yourself and see.”

Eeny, meeny, miney...
ON September 9, 1946, a class of thirty-nine members, the first postwar non-cadets, began the bewildering life of a “pre-clin” nurse. At first everything was a big “?” but soon the puzzled expressions faded as potential nurses settled down for long hours in anatomy, etc., etc.

During this time entertainment included a Hallowe’en Party given to us by the present Junior Class. As MCV settled down for a “White Christmas” we joined the other nurses in giving a Christmas Dance.

Filling water pitchers and arranging flowers led to greater things, and before we knew it six months had passed and we were walking that last mile for the completion of our uniforms, the white caps.

As Freshmen, we still have our nose on the grindstone; however, we found time to entertain the new “pre-clins” with a picnic. April being April, we were rained into the St. Philip Gym, yet there was fun and food for all. Several of our class have been active participants of the college choir and basketball team.

Since this is all for now, wish us luck as we continue to fight our way into the profession which we have chosen.

ACTIVITIES
"It is not simply office-holding, not just keeping your place, not just raising your voice from the floor, not just ranting on the rostrum with speeches and motions; which is what many people think politics is; just as they think of course you are a philosopher if you sit in a chair and lecture, or if you are able to carry through a dispute over a book. The even and consistent, day in day out, work and practice of both politics and philosophy escape them."

Plutarch.

"The power, and the restriction on it, though quite distinguishable when they do not approach each other, may yet, like the intervening colors between white and black, approach so nearly as to perplex the understanding, as colors perplex the vision in marking the distinction between them. Yet the distinction exists, and must be marked as the cases arise. Till they do arise, it might be premature to state any rule as being universal in its application."

With your graduation from the Medical College of Virginia, the Commencement activities in which you have just engaged, truly mark for each of you the “Commencement” of a new and untried life; when you will put into actual practice the theories gleaned from textbooks, classroom lectures and discussion, and the laboratories. Many of you will spend still another year—possibly longer—in further training, under expert leadership, to better fit you for the time when you will emblazon your name, with its professional appendage, upon some door, window or register, announcing that you are “Open For Business.”

Each succeeding day, month, and year after the cap and gown have been stored in moth balls, will bring to you a deeper realization of the value, the thoroughness, and the high quality of the training which you received at MCV. As you go into distant fields and unconsciously draw comparisons with the training received elsewhere by your associates, there will dawn a feeling of justifiable pride in and a warm glow of appreciation for Alma Mater which equipped you to stand shoulder to shoulder with your contemporaries. Nourish, cherish, that feeling; never let an opportunity pass to speak well of your Alma Mater, to foster its plans and its program of service and be ever ready to answer any call she may make of you for service. It is you, her Alumni, who will build the College and its hospitals into the Medical Center, which, through its strategic position and reputation, already well earned, it should—and must—become. Hold ever aloft the standards of MCV, and you hold aloft your own ideals and standards. Make the name of MCV synonymous with “Great” in the professional world.

May the success for which you have striven so earnestly during the past four years continue with you in abundant measure throughout the future and may you find real joy in your every endeavor for the alleviation of suffering humanity.
Y. M. C. A.

"BRANDEIS believed that there could be no true community save that built upon the personal acquaintance of each with each; by that alone could character and ability be rightly gauged; without that ‘neighborly affection’ which would result, no ‘faith’ could be nourished, ‘charitable’ or other. Only so could the latent richness which lurks in all of us come to flower . . . ."

DEDICATION

A medical school graduation is more than a commencement to its new doctors. It is a dedication to a lifetime of service, to working and studying for the betterment of the public health.

The doctor continues to learn through internship, residency, practice and clinical studies. Dedicated to his assistance are organizations of great technical resources, whose goal is to provide for him the tools of his profession.

In the field of endocrinology, Schering, a leader in research and manufacture of hormone preparations, is dedicated to the expansion of knowledge and to constant advance in the techniques of production and administration of endocrines.

YOU WILL WANT TO BE IN

A COMPLETE WEBER OFFICE is like a stage perfectly set for a great performance. Each major item of equipment . . . Weber Chair, Majestic Unit, RayDex X-Ray . . . is the last word in efficiency and beauty. Each is a model selected to suit exactly the practitioner’s needs and preferences, located so that his individual operating techniques may function with maximum skill and minimum effort. Plan now to “star” in such a “picture.”

A complete Weber office designed and equipped especially for you will be a wise (and surprisingly moderate) investment that will pay big dividends in professional prestige and income for many years. Why not consult your Weber Dealer, and also write Weber for descriptive literature.
HOSPITALIZATION INSURANCE

For INDIVIDUALS, FAMILIES and GROUPS

The Society also issues attractive accident policies, including monthly disability income, at low rates to men, women and children.

Our Master, All-Inclusive, Hospital Expense Policy will pay all of your hospital bills up to $1,000.00 for each separate hospital stay, not exceeding 60 days, for each separate cause.

Over 220,000 Virginians have bought policies in this Company since its establishment.

What Is a Doctor’s Investment?

In addition to long years of hard work and preparation, it is estimated by one authority that a doctor’s investment in his profession is approximately $30,000.

The doctor’s investment is unlike that of a business man who can show a tangible business property that can be sold when he wants to retire, or at death, whereas the value of a physician’s business, except for office furniture and equipment, lies solely in his ability to earn during his earning years.

How, then, can a doctor protect his investment for absolute security? The sure way is through ownership of adequate life insurance to safeguard against the two inevitable threats to every man—death or old age. For absolute protection of your investment for future security, buy all the life insurance you can as soon as you can. An Atlantic Life representative will be very happy to assist in planning your life insurance estate.

“Don’t Put All Your Eggs in One Basket”

Many years ago, when a man wished to invest a portion of his earnings in security for the future, there was a proverb which warned him: “Don’t put all your eggs in one basket!” But today that old proverb has been outmoded with the modern facilities of life insurance. Yes, that’s one of the fine things about life insurance—a man can “put all his eggs in one basket!” When he has provided for his own and his family’s financial independence through life insurance, he is certain of the future, and he can feel free to spend the rest of his income for his own and his family’s enjoyment. A Home Beneficial agent has a plan to fit your needs and your budget. Let him help you plan a program of security for yourself and your family.

"IS THIS PRODUCT COUNCIL ACCEPTED?"

This is the first question many physicians ask the detail man, when a new product is presented.

If the detail man answers, "No," the doctor saves time by saying, "Come around again when the Council accepts your product."

If the detail man answers, "Yes," the doctor knows that the composition of the product has been carefully verified, and that members of the Council have scrutinized the label, weighed the evidence, checked the claims, and agreed that the product merits the confidence of the physician. The doctor can ask his own questions, and make his own decision about using the product, but not only has he saved himself a vast amount of time but he has derived the benefit of a fearless, expert, fact-finding body whose sole purpose is to protect him and his patient.

No one physician, even if he were qualified, could afford to devote so much time and study to every new product. His Council renders this service for him, freely. Nowhere else in the world is there a group that performs the functions so ably served by the Council on Pharmacy and Chemistry and the Council on Foods.

Mead Johnson & Company cooperates with both Councils, not because we have to but because we want to. Our detail men can always answer: "Yes, this Mead Product is Council-Accepted."

MEAD PRODUCTS COUNCIL-ON-PHARMACY ACCEPTED:
Mead's Oleum Percomorphum With Other Fish Liver Oils and Viosterol; Mead's Cod Liver Oil Fortified With Percomorph Liver Oil; Mead's Viosterol in Halibut Liver Oil (Liquid and capsules); Mead's Cod Liver Oil With Viosterol; Mead's Viosterol in Oil; Mead's Standardized Cod Liver Oil; Mead's Halibut Liver Oil; Mead's Ascorbic Acid Tablets; Mead's Thiamine Hydrochloride Tablets; Mead's Niacin Tablets; Mead's Menadione in Oil.

MEAD PRODUCTS COUNCIL-ON-FOODS ACCEPTED:
Dextri-Maltose Nos. 1, 2 & 3; Mead's Dextri-Maltose With Yeast Extract and Iron; Pabulum; Pabena; Mead's Cereal; Mead's Brewers Yeast (powder and tablets); Mead's Powdered Protein Milk; Mead's Powdered Lactic Acid Milk No. 2; Alacta; Casee; Sobee; Olac.

ALL MEAD PRODUCTS ARE COUNCIL-ACCEPTED

A Prescription for the Doctor

For the economic health of young doctors we prescribe our Modified Life Protective Plan.

This is the plan for young professional men who at the time of purchase cannot afford to own, on a regular plan, all of the life insurance they need, but who can look forward with reasonable assurance to a good future income.

Ask a Life of Virginia representative to tell you about the many advantages of the Modified Life Plan.

A College Annual requires the undivided interest and attention of Editor, Business Manager and Publisher if it is to present that much desired appearance of Character.

For that reason, Everett Waddey Company handles only a limited number of annuals each year—a limited number so as to permit proper service.

Everett Waddey Company of Richmond, Virginia, alone was responsible to the Staff of the X-RAY for 1947 for the correct manufacture of the X-RAY.
